

LIBRARY RETURNS COMING IN SLOWLY

Contributions for Much-Needed Equipment Amount to $149 at Present.

STILL CHANCE TO HELP

A good start toward the $500 needed by the community library for the purchase of additional shelving was made during the past week. In response to the appeal from the trustees of the library association published in "Our Town," a number of citizens made contributions totaling $99. This added to the $50 given by the trustees themselves brings the total amount to date to $149.

But there is ample opportunity for every resident of Narberth and the nearby communities to add his or her contribution, for $351 is still required to complete the much needed $500. In the words of the trustees' appeal, "If you can help, please make check payable to The Narberth Community Library and mail as soon as possible to Mrs. Elizabeth K. Wood, 237 Forrest avenue, Narberth, Pa."

Persons not intimately acquainted with the workings of the community library will be interested to know just how it is maintained and operated.

Generally speaking the library pays its own way, that is, so far as possible expenses and the purchase of new books are concerned. Most of the books, including all volumes in the children's department, are distributed free. But from the rentals received from the new books, fines and membership fees, and these are the only ways that the library has of earning money, a sufficient amount is raised each year to buy most of the new books required, purchase supplies, pay for new bindings and other incidental operating expenses.

But this leaves virtually nothing for new shelving, desks, chairs, tables, magazine racks and any other furnishings required to equip the library with facilities needed to keep pace with the growth of the work.

DIET IS TOPIC AT COMMUNITY CLUB

Women Hear Recital and Talk on Decorative Art Tuesday.

Diet was the topic at the Tuesday meeting of the Women's Community Club, discussed by Miss Elizabeth Miller, of the Philadelphia General Hospital. She was introduced by Mrs. Eberhard Mueller. Miss Miller explained that the "run-down" condition which calls for a spring tonic is not necessary, if proper diet has been followed through the winter.

A variety of foods with plenty of green vegetables and fruits is what the body needs in order to get the amount of calcium, phosphorus, iron and magnesium required for real health. These minerals in addition to water, protein carbohydrates and fat, form a perfect diet. Miss Miller outlined briefly foods for diabetics, nephritic and obese patients as well as a salt-free diet and that for a person with high blood pressure. Children, she said, need more proteins than grown-ups. She stressed plenty of milk, custards, junket, ice cream, "Toddy" and vegetables, especially spinach and carrots. The schools are helping mothers learn to feed their children by using weight charts, plays and stories all about vegetables, fruit, milk, fresh air and plenty of sleep.

PLAN UNION SERVICES

Plans are being made for special union meetings of the Narberth churches during holy week on the following evenings at 8 o'clock: Monday, April 2, in the Lutheran church; Tuesday, April 3, at the Methodist church; Wednesday, April 4, in the Baptist church; Thursday, April 5, in the Presbyterian church. On Good Friday evening there will be a meeting in each of these four churches.

Twice Honored

Warren Lockwood, of Bryn Mawr, sophomore forward of the Lower Merion High School basketball team, who was awarded two medals Tuesday morning at assembly exercises for his high scoring activities during the court season recently ended. One was for scoring the highest number of field goals, the other for the highest number of foul goals.

LEGION B. AND L. OPENS NEW SERIES

Shares Soon Available in Second of Narberth's Associations.

MATURE FIRST SERIES

The Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association will open its 19th series on Tuesday evening, April 3, at the office of the association, corner of Haverford and Narberth avenues (office of the Narberth Coal Company).

The association matured the fifth double series in February, it being the first series to mature. This series was matured in six and one-half years, which is a good showing for the association, considering the fact that it has been operating only seven and one-half years.

The last series was the largest in the history of the association and it is their endeavor to make this, the 19th series, a record one. The association does not own any real estate and the Board of Directors are at all times exercising due diligence to maintain this status.

The fact that a majority of the stockholders in the matured series are subscribing to new shares is gratifying to the officers and directors of the association and should strengthen the opinion of other potential stockholders in the wonderful saving feature of a building and loan association.

A copy of the annual report at the close of the seventh year as of September 30, 1927, will be mailed to anyone desiring to receive the same.

"These annual reports are valuable to the stockholders and should be read and analyzed," says the secretary. "By checking up on your book with the report you verify the fact that your account is up-to-date and if any error has been made the secretary will gladly talk the matter over with you and correct the same."

"In these days of large sums of money referred to as a small fortune, the fact that the assets of the association are in excess of $250,000 may not sound like a substantial sum, but considering the length of time in accumulating this amount in a small community with another older, wide-awake and active association, it is with pride that we emphasize our achievement."

NEED OLD CLOTHING

The Welfare Committee of the Women's Community Club is collecting clothing, shoes, hats, toys and books which are to be distributed through the Crossnore School, North Carolina. Contributions will be called for on notification or they may be left with Mrs. G. N. Gill, 216 Dudley avenue. The Welfare Committee has sent away several hundred pounds of clothing and it is hoped that it may be enabled to continue the good work.

CALL BASEBALL MEETING MONDAY

To Decide on League Participation or Independent Baseball.

FIRE HOUSE IS SCENE

Whether Narberth will play independent baseball this summer or will again join the Main Line League will be decided at a meeting at the fire house on Monday evening, March 26.

In view of the fact that Narberth has the best ball field on the Main Line and a new grandstand is an inducement to play independent ball, since games could be played here every week; whereas if participation in the league is decided upon, it would mean playing away every other week.

The other members of the league are watching Narberth's moves closely since the success of the league depends to a large extent on Narberth's participation.

If independent baseball is decided upon enough games can be scheduled so that the club will see action every Saturday on the home grounds. If it is to be league ball the grounds will stand idle every other Saturday.

What course Narberth will take in this matter is for the baseball enthusiasts of the borough to decide. All such are invited and urged to be present at the meeting on Monday night at the fire house at 8 o'clock.

SPECIAL MEETING MONDAY

A special meeting of the school board Monday, March 26, to consider the election of teachers for next year was decided upon at the last regular meeting of the board on Friday. The use of the school auditorium was also granted to the Narberth Fire Company for its play, which is to be held early in April. Other routine business was taken up.

Burglar Alarm on Church Poor Box Is Downfall of Second Thief

The unique burglar alarm which guards the poor box contributions at St. Margaret's Church, Narberth, yielded another victim Wednesday night. The first was apprehended almost exactly a year ago on March 16, and likewise on a Wednesday night.

The poor box at St. Margaret's is wired with an electric system, and when it sounded an alarm in the rectory at 6 P. M. Wednesday, the Reverend Robert F. Hayes in charge of the church phoned Lower Merion police headquarters. Sergeant Brown and Officer Brown were detailed and together with Father Hayes they caught the thief red handed as he was stuffing his pockets with money contributions from the poor box.

Handsome and debonair, the man gave his name as Henry P. Gil-

COMMUNITY BUILDING TO BE MADE AVAILABLE TO MORE ORGANIZATIONS

Recreation Board to Work Out Schedule for Use of West Wing by Other Organizations as Result of Meeting Monday—Girl Scouts to Co-operate.

Wider use of the Community Building by Narberth organizations was made possible this week by action taken at the meeting of the Recreation Board Monday night. The meeting accomplished a solution of a problem which has been the source of considerable discussion in past months.

A request by various local groups for the use of the Community Building was refused on the grounds that the west wing was given to the Girl Scouts exclusively by the trustees of the Y. M. C. A. when the building was turned over to the borough.

Efforts have been under way for many months on the part of Council, the Recreation Board and the Burgess to adjust the matter with the trustees and Girl Scouts in a way which would grant the taxpayers wider use of the Community Building. The solution of the question was reached Monday night as shown in correspondence printed in this issue.

Col. I. A. Miller, president of the School Board, presided at the meeting with all the Recreation Board present: Mrs. Fletcher W. Stites, William H. Fretz, Dr. Leroy A. King and Clarence Kaerber, secretary.

A communication from Mrs. Ruth H. Nash, leader of the Girl Scouts, was read and accepted by a motion expressing the appreciation of the Board of the fine and generous spirit shown. The letter follows:

"In view of the recent discussions in Council and representations made to me regarding the present use of the west wing of the Community Building by the Girl Scouts, I feel that there has been so much misunderstanding that our position should be made clear.

"When the Board of Trustees of the Y. M. C. A. entered into an agreement with Council under date of August 5, 1925, the use of the west wing of the Community Building was not only given to

TALKS OF THINGS IRISH

Former Congressman Donohue is Speaker at Rotary Luncheon.

A gentleman with a bright green shamrock in his lapel talked of matters Irish Tuesday at the meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. The speaker was former Congressman Michael F. Donohue, of Frankford.

Irish progress under conditions of comparative independence were discussed by Mr. Donohue, as contrasted with a former state of ignorance and poverty. The bad conditions in the past, the speaker stated, were blamable directly to the English Parliament, which enforced ignorance and serfdom upon the people.

While Ireland is slowly recovering from the destruction of her industries and schools, Mr. Donohue stated, England is still trying to keep the island unsettled, fearing that unity would still strengthen its independence.

Present-day Erin, the Rotarians were told, is developing water power and manufacturing, and has an excellent government free of religious bigotry or sectionalism.

The meeting, one of the largest the club has held, was attended by several members of the Ardmore Club and other visitors.

A JOURNALISTIC ROMANCE

The engagement was announced this week of Miss Edith Eleanor Maguire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Maguire, of 300 Grayling avenue, and Mr. Thomas Arthur Elwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elwood, of Ventnor, N. J. Miss Maguire is Fireside reporter of Our Town, and social reporter, also, for the News of Bala-Cynwyd. Mr. Elwood is assistant editor of the latter paper.

GIVE LECTURE ON FLAG

D. A. R. Sponsors of Illustrated Lecture Tuesday.

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution are giving an illustrated lecture, "The Trail of the Flag," at the Girl Scout room of the community building on Tuesday, March 27, at 7:30 o'clock, for the school children of Narberth as well as the Boy and Girl Scout troops of the borough.

"Have you ever thought of the day the flag which flies in all parts of the United States was carried through this country, or of the men who carried the flag through impassable wildernesses such as most of our country was at that time? Do you know of the many places where there are memorials to this march of the flag? If you do, refresh your memory; or if not, a new and fascinating history is opened for you."

Last year the chapter gave a lecture of the same kind known as "The history of the flag." Mrs. B. Earl Auchenbach, the historian of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, with Mrs. Joseph Miller assisting, has charge of the program.

LIEUTENANTS ILL

Lower Merion Police Minus Services of Mullin and Miller.

The Lower Merion police force is still minus the services of two of its heads, for Lieutenants Mullin and Miller are still confined to their homes ill.

Lieutenant Mullin, who has been out with quinsy, which followed an attack of grippe, made a visit to headquarters Saturday, believing himself on the way to recovery, but suffered a relapse. Lieutenant Al Miller is still on sick leave with a touch of pneumonia.

SILER—GUGERT

The wedding of Aldine K. Siler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Aldine K. Siler, of 227 North Narberth avenue, to Miss Anna Gould Gugert, daughter of Francis A. Gugert, of Wayne, took place Monday at Elkton, Maryland.

The bridegroom attended the Narberth schools and Duke University, Durham, N.C. His father is a Philadelphia paper box manufacturer. Mr. Gugert is a member of the architectural firm of Boyd, Abel and Gugert.

The young couple, both of whom are 21 have been engaged for a year, according to the bride's mother. They became acquainted, it is said, through a mutual interest in horse-back riding.

WARNING FROM TAX COLLECTOR

ORCHESTRA GIVES PLEASING CONCERT

Large Audience Hears Main Line Musicians and Contralto Soloist.

NEXT CONCERT MAY 20

The Main Line Orchestra gave its third concert of the season at the Ardmore Theatre on Sunday evening before an audience which was one of the largest in the history of the organization. The soloist was Gertrude Traubel, contralto.

Adolph Vogel, the conductor, showed, as usual, good judgment in selecting a program well suited to a small orchestra, which resulted in a sure tone and clear-cut playing.

The first number was the well-known and popular overture from "The Barber of Seville" of Rossini, which was played with all by strings alone, were given a light and pleasing reading. In the vivacity and enthusiasm called for by so energetic and sparkling a piece.

Group Songs in Second Part.

Two movements from Beethoven's C Major Symphony constituted the next number, which formed the classical unit of the program. This symphony, Beethoven's first, was written more in the style of Mozart and Haydn than any of his others, and demands great accuracy and delicacy of treatment. This was shown in the first movement particularly; the second part, allegro molto vivace, was a little irregular in places.

Miss Traubel's first song was "Adieu Forets" from Tchaikovsky's "Jeanne d'Arc," which had an emotional quality especially well suited to her rich deep contralto.

The second part of the program consisted of several groups of short numbers. Gillet's "In the Mill" and "After the Ball," played Sunset" the orchestra brought out remarkably clearly the tonal shading and rather moody quality of

SERVICE TOPIC OF VISITING BELL HEAD

Two Groups of Phone Employees Addressed by E. M. Prisk.

E. M. Prisk, Vice President and General Manager of the Eastern Area of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, visited Ardmore, Wednesday, to address a conference of the female supervisory employees of the Main Line and West Chester Districts, pointing out the value of a proper selection of personnel and the necessity of looking at the company's service from the subscriber's viewpoint. After the luncheon, which closed the meeting, a tour of some of the central offices of the district was made.

In the afternoon Mr. Prisk had a conference with the district heads, G. K. Erb, District Manager; S. C. Price, District Plant Superintendent, and J. C. Longstreth, District Traffic Superintendent, at which time the program and plans for 1928 were mapped out and discussed.

The last meeting of the day was held at the Brookline Square Club in the evening with Mr. Price presiding. Mr. Prisk again addressed the group, this time composed of the male employees of the Main Line and West Chester districts, and stressed the same points he had covered earlier in the day, notably the quality of service rendered and various improvements that the company hopes to make.

In addition to the principal talk of the evening, short speeches were made by J. R. Anderson, General Commercial Manager; J. B. Witten, Assistant to Vice President and General Manager; R. C. Glancy, Chief Engineer; G. L. Smith, General Traffic Manager, and Mr. H. B. Cowan, Plant Superintendent, all of the Eastern Area.

COUNTIES GAS HAS $1,300,000 PROGRAM

Mather Outlines Improvement Schedule—Is Largest in History.

GAS FOR W. MANAYUNK

J. L. Mather, Manager of the Main Line Division of the Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas & Electric Company, made announcement this week of improvements to its property completed and contemplated in 1928.

The Main Line Operating Division extends from Coatesville on the west to Sixty-ninth street, Upper Darby on the east, and is planning many projects for the improvement of its service, as well as providing for the requirements of this rapidly growing section.

"Additions to the Malvern substation together with a new distribution feeder to Paoli have recently been completed," Mr. Mather stated, "resulting in improved voltage conditions in this area and is the first step towards the interconnection of the Malvern and Wayne sub-stations. This, together with preliminary work on the Wayne distribution system, which includes a new circuit to Villanova, about completed, involves an expenditure of $57,000.

"The Ardmore area falls in line this year for major changes, amounting to approximately $250,000, which includes a new automatic sub-station equipped with the latest and most modern electrical apparatus. The distribution system will be rehabilitated and rearranged for 3-phase service, with special attention given to interconnection of distribution feeders for use in times of emergencies.

Pike Mains Complete Line.

"In 1927 the Llanerch to Sixty-ninth Street area was rebuilt and changed over to 3-phase 4000 volts at a cost of a quarter of a million and this year an additional $50,000 will be spent on sub-station and distribution system improvements, including a new circuit into the heart of the rapidly growing Sixty-ninth Street district.

"The Gas Department is looking forward to a big year. Two major projects will keep it busy for a while extending its service to West Manayunk and Newtown Square, involving the laying of better than six miles of main, 425 services, and the installation of 425 meters. With the installation of a mile of 16-inch high pressure main from Narberth to Lancaster Pike, a continuous high pressure 16-inch transmission line will be completed from the West Conshohocken generating plant to the new Upper Darby holder.

"This high pressure main will be necessary to the various communities along its route. The cost of these projects is estimated at $200,000.

"Miscellaneous improvements not mentioned above are estimated at $130,000.

"The New Business Department has set aside in its budget for electric lines and gas main extensions, installation of transformers, services and meters, $513,000.

The Main Line Division's program, of approximately $1,300,000 represents the largest in its history."

SQUIRE IN SECOND CRASH

Squire Fred Walzer, of Narberth, member of the Bala-Cynwyd Rotary Club, figured in his second automobile accident in two weeks Saturday, when his machine crashed with another near Fort Washington while he was on a week-end trip. This time there were only minor damages to the magistrate's car. In the first crash, he received cuts on the face.

Plan for Boy Week

A meeting of district chairmen to go over routine plans and arrangements for the Main Line Boy Week program, April 28 to May 5, was held Wednesday night at the Ardmore Y. M. C. A. Edward A. Carlson, chairman, presided. There were nine representatives from Bala-Cynwyd organizations.

HAVE ONLY FOUR REGULARS ON NINE

Forty Candidates Report for Lower Merion Baseball Practice.

BEGIN OUTDOOR WORK

Baseball candidates got their first taste of outdoor practice Wednesday afternoon at Lower Merion High School. Coach Warren Cocklin is faced with a difficult task, to mold almost an entirely new team out of a squad of forty or so boys that answered the call for practice. Only four regulars are available as a nucleus for the new team.

Captain "Mike" Mulligan heads the list, with Charles Haskell, Bobby Elmore and Clyde Richards as the other veterans. Mulligan will hold down the shortstop post for his third season as a regular.

Elmore and Haskell, who played in the outfield last season, wish to try for infield berths this year. Haskell is a good batter and wants to play first base. Elmore wants to play third. If these boys make the grade, the infield will be ready for action, with a veteran group of players, as Richards handles the second base post.

New players will have to be developed for the outfield jobs and the battery positions. Lower Merion was well fortified behind the bat last year with the hefty Morris Abramson throwing out base stealers with his speedy pegs. Ballard, Tate, Gane, Wannop are all trying to be his successor, with Gane and Ballard the most likely prospects. Gane comes from the Junior High with a reputation as a good batter, which should aid him materially.

Outfield candidates include McCrea, a sub last year; Sherwood, Boutlier, Marmora and several others who might show promise later.

Pitching prospects also loom bright, even though Horsie Dohan graduated, and Rey Tyson left school. Among the boys out for the mound post are Jack Everhart, Nick Lyons, Burgess, Parks and Fretz. From this group at least two dependable hurlers should be developed.

The cap that stands for capability

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS ago milk was sold by the dipper-and-pail method just as it was a half century back.

How different today! Follow it from the inspection of the herds, housed in sanitary barns, to the country receiving station, where it is inspected, tested and cooled, then into the city by "giant thermos bottles on wheels," safe and sanitary. Then the pasteurizing and modern methods of bottling, in thoroughly sterilized vessels. Last, the prompt, dependable delivery of the capped and iced product in the bottle bearing our name.

As you remove the cap and pour its rich cream-topped contents into the glass, rest assured that you are supplied with a product unexcelled in fresh, rich, wholesomeness, and that all along the line there has been expert care, eternal vigilance, endless effort day and night, by an organization that knows its business, that realizes and meets its responsibility, that keeps step with progress; inspecting, testing, safeguarding at every step, that you may be supplied with GOLD MEDAL MILK—measuring up to all that its name implies.

A PAGE FOR NARBERTH'S CHURCHES

THE COMPASSIONATE JESUS

A Lenten Sermon by Pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church

As Robert Rake moved through the districts of that great mill city, Gloucester, on a Sunday morning back in 1780, he was impressed more than usual with the great hordes of children that ran around, dirty and unkempt, cursing and swearing, with nothing to occupy their time. He pitied them. What a shame, it seemed to him, that these children were not cared for in a better way. With that feeling of compassion he set to work to gather them together each Sunday morning, the only morning when they were not in the mills. He was not primarily interested in giving them religious instruction. He merely wanted to get them off the street. Yet from that small beginning has arisen the modern Sunday morning Bible School.

Florence Nightingale was the daughter of a wealthy English land-owner. She had all the comforts and conveniences that wealth and the day could give her. She had a host of admiring friends. But her sumptuous meals and wonderful parties only helped to enhance her feelings of pity for those poor people who had barely enough to eat and many more suffering because of the lack of proper attention during illness. Frequently she went with the family physician loaded with a basket of food and clothing for those who were suffering. This spirit finally forced her to take up the work of a nurse, even though the business was looked down upon as the work of those people who lacked self-respect. She resolved to make of it a profession. When the Crimean War broke out she, with thirty-four others, volunteered their service to relieve the suffering of the soldiery. How the soldiers loved her! Many of them whom she could not personally tend kissed her very shadow as it fell on their pillows as she passed at night. Returning home after the war, she was rewarded by Queen Victoria with a beautiful brooch pin, and the government gave her $250,000, which she refused to spend selfishly on herself, but rather to found "The Nightingale School of Nursing" in London. She even refused to permit all the British soldiers in the war to give so much as a penny each in order to erect a memorial for her. She wanted no rewards. She served because she had compassion for those in suffering. And remember that that word compassion is derived from two Latin words, "cum" and "patior," which mean "to suffer together." Florence Nightingale served in misery because she was a fellow-sufferer with them as long as they were in distress.

Professor Perry, of Harvard University, wrote that one of the pillars upon which a democracy is built is "the motive of compassion." "Compassion regards life concretely as an aggregate of suffering, struggling, hoping men and women; it is essentially remedial rather than constructive. It applies itself to raising the minimum rather than the maximum. It halts the vanguard of civilization in order that those who are dropping by the way or lagging in the rear may be brought abreast of the marching column. It is less interested in the perfection of the few who demonstrate the heights to which human nature can attain under the most favorable conditions; it is more interested in providing the unfortunate man with the staple goods of health, food and protection. It is distributive and extensive in its effect, rather than qualitative and intensive." (The Present Conflict of Ideals, p. 499.) In other words, a democracy presupposes an equality in status of the population. To gain that status the motive of compassion is necessary. We must have that spirit of sorrow and pity that is excitable by suffering and distress of any kind which leads to a desire to help or spare others if we are going to have a real democracy. I believe that is the secret of the success of our country, for if we are one thing we are a compassionate people always ready to help those beneath.

More so is this spirit an integral part of God's nature. St. Luke wrote in Acts and St. Paul in Romans that "God is no respecter of persons," that is, God does not accept man on his face value, but on his inner value, whether Jew or Gentile, Greek or barbarian, free or slave. We know he looks down with pity and compassion upon all suffering and alleviates it more often than we realize. When man fell—yea, before man fell—God had laid out a plan whereby man might be saved from eternal death. Shakespeare grasped the idea and gave it to the ages in the words:

"O heavens, can you hear a good man groan,

And not relent, or not compassion him?"

—Titus And., Act IV, Sc. 1.

Quite impossible! Compassion is an integral part of His nature.

When Jesus was incarnate he displayed continuously the fact that his heart just couldn't bear to pass suffering of any kind. Not least of these examples is the "Feeding of the Five Thousand." On that occasion he had led his disciples away from the centers of population. John the Baptist had just been beheaded by Herod at the request of a woman who had danced before his evil eyes and so highly pleased him that he offered to give her even up to the half of his kingdom. She requested the head of John, now in prison for having the courage to condemn Herod for his evil life. (Would to God there were more men with his courage that could say, "Thou art the man!") Following his death the population was intensely excited. And so Jesus withdrew to let things quiet down and at the same time to rest while he taught his beloved twelve. But the weary Christ could not escape from the throng and find that solitude and rest which he craved. Let He gave no evidence of impatience or displeasure when the crowd circled the Lake on foot while He and His band went across by boat. To His compassionate heart these people seemed as sheep having no shepherd, and so, as usual, He moved among them with majestic dignity and patient tenderness. He healed their sick by laying His hands upon them; and finally lifted His hands to still the murmurs that ran through the crowd. He opened His mouth and taught them the mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven. And finally when night was falling and they were far from home, many of them, and far from a village, He proceeded to feed them, supplying the food in a miraculous way. Starting with the five loaves and two fishes, He had enough and more to feed the entire company. Here was a concrete example of just what would happen if men in their search for the higher things of life, of which He was the embodiment, "forsook all and followed Him." He had said in the Sermon on the Mount: "Take no thought saying, what shall we eat, or what shall we drink?" These people had done that and followed him and He took care of them.

However, it would be gross presumption for men to lay aside all responsibility and say, "Lord, I am going to hold you to your word. I am following after Thee. Now feed me." I would not advise such a procedure. History and experience have proven that God feeds man when he tries first to feed himself. We have gotten beyond that type of life of which Symeon Stylites is the outstanding example. In 423 Symeon, seeking a surer mode of salvation, started living atop a pillar. For 36 years, through day and night, summer and winter, rain and sunshine, frost and heat, he stood there, forty feet above the ground, on that pillar about three feet in diameter, in an attitude of penance and prayer. God, through the crowds that streamed from far and near, fed him, we might say. From that we could argue, "God likewise owes me a living." Captain John Smith's slogan, however, is applicable here: "He that will not work will not eat." When man becomes a parasite the Divine compassion ceases.

When Jesus was in the wilderness immediately after the baptism the devil came to him and suggested that he feed himself by turning the stones lying around him into bread. He could have done that, for "All power is given unto Me in heaven and in earth." He knew. However, He refused to use that power for His own selfish interests. But when He was called to use it for others He rarely, if ever, refused. He had seen fit to use it on their behalf this time. He chose to do immediately for the benefit of 5000 what had been done at creation immediately, to feed all the world for all time by creating a seed and a fish with the power within themselves to increase and propagate. Creation is even a more remarkable miracle than the Feeding of the Five Thousand. We should rejoice as these people rejoiced after he had fed them, because the Divine Compassion is still in this world feeding us, clothing us, sheltering us, saving us.

SUNDAY EVENINGS

Narberth Presbyterian Church

The Lenten meetings being held in this church on Sunday evenings are proving very helpful. A special feature is the delightful ministry of song rendered by the large Endeavor Chorus, directed by Mrs. L. H. Trotter. The attendance last Sunday was the largest we have seen in the evening service for a long while. It is to be hoped that the interest will continue to increase. In the series of Lenten sermons being delivered the subject for next Sunday evening will be "Judas, in His Own Place." On Palm Sunday evening the subject will be "Via Dolorosa."

This church will unite with the other churches of Narberth in the Union Meetings that will be held from Monday to Thursday evenings of Holy Week. On Good Friday evening the Church Quartette, assisted by a chorus choir of trained voices will sing the beautiful cantata entitled "From Olivet to Calvary." On Easter Sunday evening a Choral Service will be held in which three choruses will participate.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WOHLERT ON POLITICS

To the Editor of "Our Town":
It was quite instructive to read the vote cast at the recent Council meeting on the subject of the objectionable real estate office connected with the P. R. R. passenger station, especially when viewed with a background of the previous meeting in mind.

At the previous meeting of Council our able Burgess tried to excuse this granting of an illegal permit for moving of this shack by explaining or implying that the great P. R. R. was keen to retain this petty revenue producer, when he well knew, or should have known, that the Pennsy was jolly glad to get rid of this obstruction and eyesore. He also knew that if the shack was removed it was quite within the possibilities that the Pennsy would have widened the approach to the station and Haverford avenue at that dangerous point. The Burgess also tried to convey the idea that if the P. R. R. was antagonized on this we would never get a new station, whereas if the Burgess really cared to "think" for once he should realize that the officers of the P. R. R. are not a petty lot of pikers, and are not bothering one little bit about the few cents of revenue their railroad gets from this small frame building. In fact, if you knew the amount the railroad gets for this you would laugh at the very idea that Mr. Atterbury should bother about it. At the last meeting of Council our Burgess told that body that if any limit was put on the tenure of the shack the "Committee" in charge of promoting a new "Passenger Station" would quit, because it would disturb and upset all the good will built up with the P. R. R. by that august body.

It is to laugh—the P. R. R. can not undertake any improvements at present before profits increase, and the "Great Building Program" planned for West Philadelphia and Broad street are finished, or at least well under way. If we really are in a hurry about a "Passenger Station" let us dismiss the committee with our thanks and purchase all possible transportation we may need at our own station. I bought within 30 days $110 worth, and plenty others can do the same. Buy your scrip books or mileage there, it can be used for purchase of tickets anywhere: get your monthly tickets, 10-trip, 50-trip, etc., right at home, and let the railroad know that they are patronizing them, and they will favor you in return, just exactly in proportion to the amount of cash sales at our own Narberth station. His Honor the Burgess should know that every "Passenger Station" on the Main Line, with one or two exceptions, are in the same dilapidated and antiquated condition, and that every community is demanding a new station.

In my judgment we are better served by waiting patiently: the improvement will come, and in five years or later, our section will have doubled in population and the railroad will build accordingly for 20 years ahead at that ratio. Well, to return to that vote in Council: It was a little difficult on account of a typographical error to read just what the vote was, but here it is. Leitch, Hall and Wood voted in the interest of the people, and all the rest of Councilmen, Fretz, Haws, Kaeber and Bates, voted in the interests of the Nash-Stites-Frye invisible government of the borough. Three men voted to meet the issue squarely, and four men voted to sidestep.

The great concern shown by our Burgess in the retention of this objectionable shack may be accounted for, if he is the legal adviser of the real estate firm involved, but certainly not out of consideration for the railroad company, as that corporation desires to rid itself of this incumbrance. It is instructive for residents and property owners of Montgomery avenue to know that the Zoning Committee was ignored when this "Temporary" permit was issued. The Burgess, when approached by Nash, and perhaps prodded by Stites, instructed the building inspector to grant this objectionable permit after both he and the building inspector had previously turned it down. A quick reversal—magic like in alacrity.

Montgomery avenue, south side, is in Narberth borough, and in a residential zone. Montgomery avenue, north side, is in Lower Merion township and in the business zone, with several stores and three oil stations in full swing. Yet, while 96 per cent. of the property owners on the Narberth side of the pike want to be included in the business zone for the reason that the shaking of the houses by heavy trucks and the present existing condition of the north side indicates a need for a zoning change, while the Montgomery avenue people have some logic on their side, they can do nothing (at present) with the Zoning Committee. Why not work on the Burgess? That might bring them a temporary permit, good for 5-10 years, quite as long as it would be needed, as the first stores erected would quite likely be of a temporary character, and good only for that length of time anyway.

A. E. WOHLERT.
Nota Bene:
The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. gets $25 per month or $300 per annum out of that building that in turn has been used by the post office department, the Narberth Civic Association, a development company and a real estate company.

NO NEWCOMER

To the Editor of "Our Town":
I have read in its entirety the letter signed "Real Progress," but I must disagree with the Editor when he declares a "Newcomer" has entered the field. It is the same queer assortment of garbled facts and bad English.

I think we all agree that we want the best for ourselves and our families at the lowest possible tax rate, but I am not at all convinced that we would enjoy the existing advantages if merged with the township. Surely if there is merit in the annexation plan misrepresentation will not help the cause.

C. H. A. CHAIN.

SOME VERSE

To the Editor of "Our Town":
"Real Progress" is the name, but the bunk is just the same, and the faking is for shame. It is to laugh.
JOEL YELLEK.

ON STREET WIDENING

To the Editor of "Our Town":
Might I, a citizen of this community, be so presumptuous as to address you on the subject of the ordinance prepared by our borough solicitor dealing with the widening from 30 to 70 feet of Forrest, Narberth and Essex avenues? This ordinance, which is on Council's table, gently sleeping, awaiting, apparently, a more favorable atmosphere for its revival, is what I would term extravagant legislation. If we feel the pulse of public opinion rightly, as demonstrated at the public hearing held by Council on this ordinance, it is also one of the measures prepared and considered by Council for which no public urge was apparent.

What would the result and also the cost of favorable action on this ordinance be?
Narberth avenue has within a short time been considerably changed in physical appearance. Business has been invading here, and we find one side occupied by the theater building and other stores, all built out to the present building line with the drug store and apartment on the other side. Thus the Haverford avenue entrance of Narberth avenue is permanently fixed for some, and I might say many years to come. How much, might I venture to ask, would the damages assessed be if we take 10 feet on either side of Narberth avenue at this point? Without widening at the entrance to the main business street, Haverford avenue, what advantage would accrue from the monies spent for the assessed damages for widening the upper end of this street?

Forest avenue, being more or less a blind street at both ends, it would seem folly to widen under such conditions as traffic could not naturally be diverted from either Narberth or Essex avenues and still maintain an easy flow.

Then we have Essex avenue. The bank building at Haverford avenue is located in such a position to the apartments and stores opposite as to form a veritable neck of a bottle arrangement, to correct which would cause considerable expense.

Thus the shortsightedness of this same Council in allowing these conditions to prevail, who now wish to use their visionary powers, has virtually defeated their own purpose. The expense of this whole plan, to place a futurist design in the center of Narberth, with a $45,000 bank building interfering at one end and a theater building worth considerable more at the other, is estimated by Mr. Nash at $250,000, which is no doubt a very conservative estimate; it would probably be around $300,000. Just think by one fell stroke our economical Council would spend for future payment the total of three years' present borough taxes for the benefit of tickling the vanity of the visionary powers of a few citizens.

It might be a more economical plan to buy enough property thereabout and establish a free public garage for the benefit of those auto-parkers who block up these streets and Haverford avenue, and thus add about one-fourth more actual usefulness to these streets, especially Haverford avenue.

And these hinterlands, or uplands so designated as such by a previous writer, which are suddenly going to spring to life and crowd our streets with travel, are certainly slow to respond to the touch of new population. Surely the thinking people of Narberth recognize that Philadelphia is reaching out in the direction of the northeast and also to Delaware county with a vigor that is entirely lacking in the northwest. Such men as Mr. Mitten and the city transit planners are not contemplating any elevated or subway in the direction of the northwest to take care of this phantom people. These far-thinking men have no such visionary powers as some of our Narberth dreamers.

If we must dream and become visionary why not go farther? We all know that Mr. Ford is now working on the cheapening of the airplane with a view of replacing our present mode of travel. The time is not far distant, we are told, when the air will replace our streets for this purpose. Thus our forethought will become needless and our widened streets a monument to our narrow sphere of future vision, and an expensive white elephant on our hands, as street repair costs are based on so much per square foot.

Our playground advocates have already placed at our disposal an aviation field, well situated for the landing of the flocks of the hinterland flying population, so why not sit tight and await the first honk-honk from bird-land?

"REAL PROGRESS."

TEARS AND TAXES

Harken, friends, a strong man weeps,
A "newcomer" doth implore—
But are you sure he's not the same
We all have heard before?

As he sorrowfully beholds
Our quite fearful situation
His frame appears to sway
In most violent agitation.

He says our hard-earned taxes
Are spent with lavish hand—
He wonders where our wits are,
He's most doubtful of our sand.

He points to those poor merchants
Being pressed down to the heel—
Heavy-hearted and boro-burdened—
They ought to join in his appeal.

'Tis truly no mean project
For which these tears do fall—
Don't you want to save the money
Or ain't you got no sense at all?
—The Spectator.

Meteors Won Second Series of A Bowling League

Start Third Series

The second series of the 1927-1928 season of the Inter-Church "A" Bowling League was easily won by the Methodist Meteors. The Baptist Batlers were very much handicapped during the series and could roll only five games of the nine scheduled. The Batlers promise to be on the job during the third series and showed their mettle on unlucky March 13 by taking three of the four points from the high fliers—the Meteors.

The standing of the teams for the second series is as follows:

	W.	L.	P.C.
Methodist Meteors	28	4	.875
Lutheran Lions	19	17	.526
Presbyterian Pilots	15	21	.419

Back Car Inspection

Strong endorsement of the "Save a Life" Campaign, to be conducted under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, next month, is contained in a statement made public today by the Keystone Automobile Club.

J. Borton Weeks, president of the club, believes that it will result in the saving of many lives, and therefore urges upon all motorists the necessity for complying with the request of the State for thorough inspection of their cars.

A Kansas City mother offers to take a flogging from her errant daughter as a means of placating her. It will be a discerning Judge who says truly what may happen.

FERTILIZERS—Plant food is a better name, although a plant drinks it rather than eats it.
Plant food of any kind must be made available in liquid form to the roots of the plant. In view of this fact it would seem foolish to spread fertilizer on a heavy clay soil and expect the plant to get any benefit from it. The soil must first be broken up, made friable, and be in such mechanical condition that it will suspend moisture about the root of the plant and allow the surplus moisture to drain away.

Animal manures are both fertilizers and soil builders because the residue remains in the ground as humus to lighten the soil and to hold moisture after the chemical elements have been taken up by the plants. There is about 25 pounds of plant food in one ton of stable manure, this divided into plant food is expressed as 2 per cent. nitrogen, 2 per cent. phosphoric acid and 1 per cent. potash. These are the three elements that are necessary to healthy plant growth and the three elements that are ordinarily deficient in our soil.

A well-balanced commercial fertilizer will ordinarily contain 5 per cent. nitrogen, 10 per cent. phosphoric acid and 5 per cent. potash. This makes a complete plant food for practically all plants, and is all quickly available. The nitrogen will make a fleshy leaf growth, very desirable in the vegetable garden, but not in the flower garden; the phosphoric acid will help the bud and blossom, fruit and seed and will help the plant to mature earlier; the potash will help stem, root and tuber, or woody growth, and will also help the general health of the plant.

Hardwood ashes are a fine source of supply of potash and should be dug in deeply where the lower roots can reach them. Bone meal from raw bone, properly ground, will give 23 per cent. phosphoric acid and 5 per cent. nitrogen, and offers part of the plant food at once and holds the balance for many months, making it available to the plant as the action of water dissolves the bone.

Generally speaking, manure plus a good commercial fertilizer would be the right combination for the vegetable garden and commercial fertilizer only in well-prepared soil, without manure, would be for best results in the flower garden. Roses are no exception to the flower garden rule as the soil should not only be rich in plant food, but it should be clean in order to have healthy plants.

Spring's Arrival, One Day Early, Greeted With Rising Temperature

Winter blew a few icy blasts at spring Tuesday, and then departed to hide just around the corner, waiting for an opportunity to register its strenuous objections to longer and warmer days. The sun rose at 6.04 A. M. Tuesday, the first day of spring this leap year, and stayed up until 6.13 P. M., when it retired to its occidental couch. By 5 P. M. it had accomplished its task, however; the temperature had risen in twelve hours from 32 degrees, winter-time, to 45 degrees, which is fair for early springtime.

Spring came tripping in at 3.45 P. M. Tuesday, a whole calendar day early, in its anxiety not to be deterred by leap year. Precipitation was .08 inch last Friday, .07 inch Saturday, and .49 inch Sunday.

Main Line Weather Man Charles Decker served a reminder, however, that spring's arrival has not completely banished winter, when he found that Tuesday's average temperature was only 38 degrees, as compared with an average of 50 degrees recorded for last year's equinox. There have been colder days—March 21, 1885, for instance, when the thermometer sank to 8.

High and low temperatures for the period commencing last Tuesday are given by Observer Decker and his associates as follows: Tuesday, 58-34; Wednesday, 53-43; Thursday, 48-30; Friday, 40-31; Saturday, 46-29; Sunday, 42-30; Monday, 38-28; Tuesday, 41-32, and Wednesday, 45-32.

ADDITIONAL BUS SERVICE

New Route

Effective March 11, 1928

The Montgomery Bus Company, Inc., operators of the Philadelphia Suburban Transit Company, announce an additional, directly communicating line between Bryn Mawr, Haverford, Ardmore and 63d Street Terminus.

The new line will operate from Morris and Montgomery avenues, Bryn Mawr, east on Montgomery avenue to Wynnewood avenue, to City Line, to 63d street, to present terminus, returning over the same route.

Leaving Time from each end—5.55, 6.25 A. M. and every half hour until 11.15 P. M. (from Bryn Mawr) and 12.25 A. M. (from Philadelphia).

OTHER ROUTES

Lancaster Avenue Line—From Philadelphia to Rosemont.

Strafford Line—From Rosemont to Garrett Hill.

Gladwyne Line—From Montgomery and Anderson avenues, Ardmore, to Gladwyne.

Montgomery Avenue Line—From Montgomery and Anderson avenues, Ardmore, to Philadelphia via Narberth.

Short Line—From 54th and City Line to Narberth via Bala-Cynwyd.

The patrons of the line will receive our best efforts in rendering M. B. C. standard service.

OUR TOWN

Legion-Air

The last two or three months have been epochal months in the Legion post. An increasing interest has been shown in all affairs of the Legion, and many forward steps taken. The inauguration of this column as a regular feature of "Our Town" is one, and, it is hoped, it will be of sufficient interest to all to be a featured item of the paper.

The meeting this month, known as "Gobs' Night," will be held in post quarters Monday at 8.15 P. M. There are many items of importance to be discussed, and every member or ex-service man eligible to membership is urged to attend.

The feature of the evening will be a talk by Commander Charles H. Shaw, U. S. Navy, on "The Strength of Our Navy." Commander Shaw is well versed in naval affairs, having served for 27 years, during which time he has fought in several wars and visited all corners of the globe. It is sincerely hoped a large number will be out to hear him.

After the meeting the "Gobs' Committee, consisting of William Fritz, Perry Redifer and Walter Nash, have promised some real navy "chow." Everybody out and out early, 8.15.

Legion Poppy Sale.

One of the most worthy enterprises undertaken by the Legion is the sale of the "Legion Poppy."

These poppies are made by disabled ex-service men, for which they are paid. The poppies are thus sold to the American Legion and the proceeds from the sale used by the various Legion posts in welfare work.

The Narberth Legion post believes that in previous years many poppies were bought by residents of Narberth in Philadelphia. This year we will have poppies in ample stock so that everyone can purchase their poppy in Narberth, thereby helping the home post. The Legion and auxiliary are co-operating in this sale and ask the support of the people of Narberth. Everyone will buy a "Legion Poppy," so be sure that this year you "Buy your poppy in Narberth."

Boy Scout Night.

The Legion will act as host to the local troop of Boy Scouts on Friday, March 30, at the Legion hall. The scouts have promised to go through several tests to show the Legionnaires what it means to be a "Scout."

This will be an instructive, entertaining evening and Legionnaires welcome this opportunity to show their appreciation and interest in scouting. Spring is here and Bill Durbin, Eddie Ensinger and Harry Simpson are now arranging the schedule for the ex-stars of Narberth to show the Narberth League team how baseball should be played. More detailed announcement will be made of this later on.

Those Dues.

Membership dues for 1928 are past due, and should be paid at once. The post obtains most of its revenue from the dues paid in, and the member in turn receives the "Legion Monthly," a magazine of interest which everyone enjoys.

The post needs the dues, and the members need the magazine. Pay your dues now.

KROMER ON DUTY

Will Sit to May On All Regular Police Cases—Arthur Responds to Climate.

Squire Franklin P. Kromer, of Cynwyd is now sitting on all police cases at the magistrate's court in the township building at Ardmore. March and April are his months for regular duty.

Magistrate Stillwagon, of Ardmore will go on in May and June, and in July and August Squire I. Warner Arthur, of Rosemont, is scheduled for his turn. Squire Arthur left recently for a trip to California to recuperate his health, and it is hardly likely that he will be back in time to resume regular sittings. Therefore police court duty for the summer will probably alternate between the remaining two Lower Merion justices.

Information received this week from Mrs. Rebecca Gane, daughter of Squire Arthur who accompanied him to California declares that the veteran magistrate was responding to the California climate and is doing well.

ORCHESTRA GIVES

Miss Traubel's second group of songs included Debussy's "Mandoline," "The Gardener" of Wolf, and "At the Well" by Hageman. Her mellow voice and attractive personality elicited generous applause, and she gave as an encore a charming little song, "To a Messenger," by Frank LaForge. "Die Schoene Galathea," by Von Suppe, brought the concert to a successful close. The orchestra played this lively, melodious piece with accuracy and verve.

The next concert of the Main Line Orchestra, which will be the final one of the season, will be given on Sunday, May 20. Christine Haskell, pianist, who will be the soloist, will play Liszt's Concerto in E flat.

Gasoline beggars are becoming common, according to welfare agencies; and the man who used to think the world owed him only a living now expects some of the luxuries, too.

The FIRESIDE

Miss Dorothy Doyle, of Valley View road, Merion, has issued invitations for a bridge party at her home next Saturday. Her guests will include the Misses Betty Vetterlein, Betty Tucker, Marjory Wood, Hazel Palmer, Marjory Vurn, Suzanne Pequignot, Dorothy Bothfield, Lillian Graham, Hazel Marrs, Dorothy Young, Marjory Neely, Dean Young, Doris Breddo, Alice Maguire, Vanda Staniflaus, Mary O'Brien, Bernice Piercy, Ruth Lee Cook and Janet MacDowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McHose, of 407 Dudley avenue, entertained ten guests at a St. Patrick's party last Saturday evening.

Dr. A. J. Denman, of Windsor avenue, has been confined to his home for the past week because of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Russell Green, of 440 Woodbine avenue, spent a few days this week in York, Pa.

Miss Phyllis Grant will entertain at bridge this afternoon at her home on Essex avenue the Misses Doris Breddo, Marjory Neely, Betty Phillips, Mary Pendergrass, Olive Patterson, Glen Macan, Florence Alburger, Dorothy Ferreira, Alice Maguire, Betty Jones and Carrie Louise Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. McHose, of 32 Narbrook Park, will sail shortly for Europe for several weeks' stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Starn, of Rockland avenue, left Sunday for a few weeks' visit in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Goodwin, of Lantwyn lane, and Mrs. Goodwin's mother and sisters motored to Florida for a fortnight's visit.

Mrs. Albert H. Nulty gave a surprise birthday party in honor of her sister, Miss Alice Maguire, last Saturday evening at her home on Meeting House lane. The guests were the Misses Phyllis Grant, Betty Jones, Sara Burgess, Carrie Louise Douglas, Betty Redfern, Eleanor Azpell, Rose Weigel, Agnes Campbell, Betty Otto, Elizabeth Terry, Katherine Jane Miller and Mary Nulty.

Miss Virginia Smith was hostess to the members of her bridge club when it met Thursday evening at her home on South Narberth avenue. Her guests were the Misses Grace Casey, Louise Jones, Betty Purse, Helen Caldwell, Marion Bottoms, Eleanor Knauer and Martha Sunderland.

Miss Mabel Kirkpatrick entertained the members of her bridge club Thursday evening at her home on Essex avenue. The members included Mrs. Patsy Jefferies, Miss Betty Jones, Miss Lois Smith, Mrs. Henry Smith, Miss Verna Maltby and Miss Dorothy Bottoms.

Mrs. John Nash, of Wynnedale road, was hostess to the members of her bridge club when it met Thursday evening at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Butts, Jr., of Lantwyn lane, have returned from several weeks' visit in Florida.

Miss Kathryn Burgess and Miss Eleanor Burgess, of 242 Hampden avenue, were the guests of Mrs. William G. Torchiana, of Atlantic City, last week-end.

Miss Georgianna Hoffsten, of Iona avenue, entertained at a bridge and shower Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Whilma Weigel, of Gilpin road. The guests included the Misses Freda Senn, Jean Gowan, Louise Krout, Erna Kahler, Louisa Young, Alma Weigel, Mrs. Gladys Cooke, and Miss Ruth Hoffsten.

The Sub-Juniors met on Monday evening at the home of Miss Ruth Hopkins, of Merion avenue, and discussed plans for a dance to be given during April. There were twenty members present.

Mrs. James Almond, of Roanoke, Va., was the week-end guest of Miss Esther Durboraw, of Elmwood avenue. Madame Verise Guerny and Mlle. G. Palisse, of Homewood avenue, will accompany a few girls to France this summer. While abroad they will visit at Chateau de Llubressac, the home of Madame Guerny's mother.

Mr. Jeff Yowell has returned home after spending the winter in Florida.

Miss Doris MacLeod, of Springfield, Mass.; Miss Eula Ovitt, of Burlington, Vermont, and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Malin, of Newark, Del., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Durboraw, of Elmwood avenue.

COMMUNITY BUILDING MADE AVAILABLE

the Girl Scouts for their exclusive use but, as we understood, the responsibility for its care as well.

"We therefore felt that until we should be so informed by the trustees and Council, we were without any authority to permit any other organizations or persons to have the use of the room."

"However, I have been recently given to understand that the trustees have investigated the situation and are of the opinion that we can permit the use by others under proper supervision by the Recreation Board. I am glad for this opportunity for the Girl Scouts will consider it a privilege if the use of their quarters can be made a means of community service."

"We are not a selfish organization; on the contrary, we have never refused the use of our room to the full extent of our authority."

"We have but two reservations to make, namely—that we feel the Girl Scouts should be given primary choice of the use of the room, and that our requirements for its use should be met before any other engagements for the room are made and that the door to the cupboard be locked because we have it stocked with dishes."

"I might add that we feel confident that the Recreation Board will see that our furniture is cared for in a satisfactory manner. I will be glad to meet with the board at any time."

"(Signed) RUTH H. NASH."

Board Thanks Scouts.

After this letter was read the secretary was authorized to write the following reply to Mrs. Nash:

"Your communication of March 8, addressed to the Recreation Board, in behalf of the Narberth Girl Scouts was received and presented to the board at their meeting held Monday evening, March 19.

"The personal interest you have always taken in the Girl Scouts' organization is a matter of record with the Recreation Board and at no time has any member of the board felt there would be any difficulty in working out to a successful conclusion the problem which confronted the board in connection with the use of the west wing of the Community Building. Your letter only confirms what we have all felt to be the real cause for any apparent delay which there may have been in throwing these quarters open for the further use of other organizations of the community which, in the discretion of the Recreation Board, would be entitled to this consideration."

"The conditions which you ask us to observe in considering the further use of the Girl Scouts' quarters are entirely reasonable and you can be assured that before any definite assignments are made the matter will be taken up with you and no arrangements will be entered into which will in any way retard the present work and future expansion of your organization."

"The janitor in charge of the building will see that the furniture is properly cared for, and will also take care of any other reservations which you would care to make."

"We want to take this opportunity to express our appreciation of the wonderful spirit evidenced by your letter and to assure you that this action on the part of the Girl Scouts is quite an important factor in helping us work out our problems in connection with the Community Building."

To Prepare Schedule.

This opened the way for the consideration of requests previously received from the Needlework Guild and other organizations, because the use of the eastern wing of the Community Building has of necessity been limited to the American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary, the Kindergarten and the League of Women Voters.

A communication was then directed to the Needlework Guild explaining the policy as adopted by the board and stating that a schedule would be prepared and their needs provided for.

The request of the Narberth baseball team for the use of the field and showers for the coming season was granted, the rules and conditions being the same as last year.

Kindergarten to Stay.

Considerable time was given to the discussion of the occupancy of the east wing of the Community Building by the Kindergarten and a request was presented by representatives of the School Board for the continuance of the present arrangement for another year, subject to the approval of the Legion. At the same time the period for which the arrangement is to operate was limited to the next school year, when it is expected that a proper solution of the Kindergarten problem can be found without imposing any additional burden on the taxpayers.

This being the first meeting of the board since the appointment of Dr. King to succeed Mrs. Grace E. Batchelor, whose term automatically expired when she retired from the School Board, Chairman Miller called upon the Burgess to explain and define the status of the Recreation Board, especially with reference to Borough Council and the School Board. Mr. Fry responded with the following statement:

Burgess Defines Duties.

"The Recreation Board was made possible by an act of Legislature which gave to Borough Councils the authority to delegate to it the power to administer the recreational facilities of the borough, subject only to the provision that the School Board might supply playground and similar equipment."

"In the case of the Community Building the Recreation Board is the governing body and as such the one to whom all communications and requests should be addressed. At the same time we must not lose sight of the fact that this board is not a tax-levying body, nor is its power greater than that of the Council which may see fit at some time to abolish it. Therefore, for purposes of record, both Council and the School Board should be kept informed as to those matters acted upon by the board which may involve the appropriation of money."

Considerable discussion followed and resulted in a complete understanding between the various bodies involved and plans were gone into by which it is hoped that the community will be able to realize to the fullest the possibilities of our facilities."

At a late hour the meeting adjourned to the next stated time, the first Monday evening in May.

Radio speeches by politicians will be literally "golden words" this year, it appears. New schedules of charges for a national hookup will make the cost about $27,000 an hour, or around $6.67 a word at the ordinary rate of speech, compared to about one-third that amount four years ago. And there's no way of knowing whether anybody is listening.

Fifteen years of development
—but an overnight popularityGENERAL ELECTRIC
Refrigerator

Wherever you go you hear people praising the General Electric Refrigerator. Almost overnight it has taken a prominent place in the thoughts of homemakers.

One hears of its remarkable simplicity. That it hasn't a single belt, fan or drain-pipe. That it hasn't a bit of machinery under the cabinet—or in the basement. That it never needs oiling. There are many, many comments on the quietness with which it operates. There is much enthusiasm for the extreme roominess and the splendid strength of its gleaming, up-on-legs cabinet.

Overnight, it seems . . . but for more than fifteen years the vast laboratories of General Electric have been busy with the development of this truly revolutionary refrigerator. Will you not come in and see the various models? Time payments can be arranged, if you prefer.

Bryn Mawr Man Says Coatesville Toad Outlived Texas One by Far

That a Pennsylvania toad once lived ten years longer than the thirty-year-old Texas toad of recent fame, is the contention of John W. Townsend, 825 Montgomery avenue, Bryn Mawr, who has requested that a search be made in scientific institutions in this State for the preserved remains of a toad which he claims was sent to Philadelphia sixty years ago after it had been discovered in a block of sandstone at Coatesville.

The Bryn Mawr resident, son of E. Y. Townsend, who was vice president of the Cambria Steel Company in Coatesville, recently wrote to D. M. Stackhouse, of the Cambria plant, concerning the toad, which is said to have been found in a block of sandstone during the construction of foundations for the steel company.

"The story was," wrote Mr. Townsend in his inquiry, "that a workman was cutting up a large stone out of the canal lock, and something fell on the ground that he thought was a dried leaf, but upon looking at it later, he saw it had swollen and was a live toad."

"My father saw it alive and I saw it after it had been preserved, and I was given a piece of the stone, which I still have. It had an indentation the size of a finger end and I was told that this was the place the frog's nose had rested in. It is a very solid sandstone."

"The canal was built about 1830 and above incident was about forty years later. The story at that time created as much sensation as the finding of the one in a Texas town recently which was said to have been in the stone thirty years or more. Scientists claimed then as now, that it was impossible but nevertheless there were plenty to argue that facts disproved this conclusion."

Mr. Townsend hopes the missing toad may be found, in order that the Keystone State may be proved to possess superior advantages conducive to the longevity of toads than the Texas one.

Tells of Traffic

Superintendent C. P. Smith, of the Lower Merion police, gave a talk on the manner in which the township handles its traffic at a meeting yesterday morning of the First Pennsylvania Safety Congress at the Bellevue-Stratford. He represented the eastern part of Pennsylvania and first class townships throughout the State.

Inventor Talked

"Industrialism and Idealism" was the subject of a lecture at Haverford College Wednesday evening, by Dr. Michael Pupin, Professor of Electromechanics and Director of the Phoenix Research Laboratories, Columbia University. Dr. Pupin has attracted increasing attention to his discussions of the relationship of the Bible to science in his recent public appearances.

The lecture was given on the Haverford Library Fund, on which fund Dr. Pupin lectured at Haverford in December, 1924. His subject at that time was "Carnot, the Prophet of Modern Science."

Dr. Pupin is well known for his autobiography, "From Immigrant to Inventor."

AT THE THEATER

Probably every golfer has a different way of playing golf.

Certainly every comedian has a different way of making laughs—but the finest example of "different" entertainment—and golf is concerned in it—is at the Narberth Theater Monday and Tuesday in "Spring Fever."

Breath-taking speed and baffling mystery, combined with an unusually sweet love story, go together to make up a great epic of the United States Marines, "The Great Mail Robbery," to be shown at the Narberth Theater on Wednesday. The Government order placing marines on duty to guard valuable transcontinental mail leads to the intense action of the story, adapted from Peter Milne's novel.

Swift action, coupled with clean comedy and high adventure in strange places, offered Albert Ray endless opportunities for good characterization in "Woman Wise," which opens at the Narberth Theater Thursday and Friday, June Collier, one of the prettiest girls seen on the silver screen in recent months, offers a welcome relief to old faces. Her acting is admirable and her support excellent.

Al Cooke and Kit Guard are the stars of "Legionnaires in Paris" at the Narberth Theater Saturday. "Legionnaires in Paris" is the story of two former doughboys who leave their small restaurant business in the United States to go abroad as delegates to the convention in Paris.

WILL FORM JUNIOR MAIN LINE LEAGUE

Mosteller Re-Elected Head at Annual Baseball Conclave.

TO BAN PAID PLAYERS

Harry J. Mosteller, Ardmore, was re-elected president of the Main Line Baseball League and Charles E. Harnden, Narberth, was again made secretary and treasurer at its annual pre-season meeting held at the Counties Motor Company, Ardmore, Monday evening.

Represented at the conclave were five teams, of which three were members of the league last year: Paoli, Berwyn and Gladwyne. New nines who sought to enter this year's pennant contest according to President Mosteller are Bala-Cynwyd and Oakmont. The latter club was a member of the Delaware County League last year.

Last season's league members were Gladwyne, pennant winner, and Paoli, Berwyn, Wayne, Garrett Hill and Narberth. With Paoli, Berwyn, Gladwyne and Bala-Cynwyd already slated as members of this year's league which will probably be restricted to a membership of six teams again, much uncertainty exists as to which two of the following teams will enter the field: Wayne, Narberth, Oakmont, or a team composed of Ardmore players.

If Oakmont's application is accepted, only one vacancy will be left. Whether Wayne or Narberth will fill this remains to be seen. The borough team has not made up its mind whether it will continue in the league or play independent ball.

Undecided clubs will probably be heard from definitely by Monday evening, March 26, when the league will hold its next meeting. At that time the six clubs that will battle for this year's pennant will probably be ready to prepare their season's schedule.

Ambitious plans were mapped out at Monday's meeting for the formation of a junior league, composed of boys too young and inexperienced to play on the older nines. Each club will foster a junior team, providing necessary coaching, furnishing efficient umpires, and helping in general to develop new baseball talent along the Main Line.

The schedule of the junior league will provide for a home and away game between the clubs, with the juniors playing at home while the senior team is playing away, and vice versa. Prizes will be given the winning team of the season, and leading individual performers will also be rewarded.

The practice of some clubs in paying players more than the gate receipts have warranted came in for condemnation. "The time has arrived to put a stop to the wrecking of ball clubs financially," was the way one member of the association expressed himself.

A resolution ruling against paid players was passed unanimously. Hereafter no player will be promised money for any game in which he participates; instead, he will be rewarded on a profit sharing basis. All receipts on hand at the end of the season will be divided by each team among its players in proportion to the number of games in which they have played. Decision was made to hold a benefit game some time in May on the Villanova College athletic field, which was given the league for its use last season for a playoff game. To aid the college fire rebuilding fund, a game will be played between the two best teams that can be obtained.

Among those present at Monday's league meeting were Walter Hanley, manager last year's Paoli team; William H. Doyle and Dan Redmond, of Berwyn; Charles E. Harnden, of Narberth; Walter Lowmes, Jr., and George Nellings, last year's manager of Gladwyne; Charles F. Barker, Bala-Cynwyd, and Joe Cullinan and Ackerman, of Ardmore. John Nunan, unable to attend the meeting, sent in a request that his Oakmont team be admitted to membership.

GETS COUNTY POST

Norristown Burgess Succeeds Hower as Sealer of Weights and Measures.

William R. Hendrickson, Burgess of Norristown, was unanimously appointed county sealer of weights and measures by the county commissioners at their meeting at the county seat Wednesday afternoon. The office pays a salary of $2100 a year, and was held for 12 years by William G. Hower, of Bryn Mawr, who was elected Recorder of Deeds last fall. Burgess Hendrickson was boomed for a place on the county slate last fall, but was persuaded to withdraw his name from the list of potential candidates.

DRAW JURORS FOR APRIL CIVIL COURT

Three from Narberth and 25 from Lower Merion to Serve.

Twenty-five Lower Merion and three Narberth jurors have been drawn for service at the two weeks of the April term of county civil court at Norristown, which will begin Monday, May 7. The session, which it is believed can be held in two weeks instead of the customary three, because of the rapid clearing of suits on file, will be the last civil court until after the summer vacation, as in June there will be only the regular term of Criminal Court.

Names of 192 jurors throughout Montgomery county were drawn from the jury wheel. Of these Lower Merion names, many of which are of prominent residents, are as follows:

Week of May 7: Edward Agnew, Robert J. Boyd, Perry W. Edmunds, Edward B. Jarden, Marion A. Karcher, Margaret Murphy, Emily C. McKee, Arthur E. McCarron, Thomas Nelson, C. Frank Powell, J. Beswick Rodgers, Ethel Smith, John Snall, Thomas R. Williams and Daniel Zimmerman. Also Jesse Harris, Narberth.

Week of May 14: Carl P. Berger, Ludwig Filbert, David Hibbs, Alba B. Johnson, David T. Mitchell, Mary McCrystal, William P. McCormick, James McKaine, Dorothy M. Ristine, and Annie L. Stuard. Also Stephen C. Duncan and Florence Pray, Narberth.

Several residents have recently been excused from duty on the February Criminal Court jury. They include Howard A. Foster, bond salesman and ex-army man; Herbert A. Arnold, Charles P. Blinn, James Crosby Brown and Beatrice Harry all of Lower Merion. H. Lester Townsend, Narberth, failed to answer to roll call Monday, although he had not been excused.

LOOKS OVER TOOLS

Library Lists Books on Gardening; New Ones Added.

Spurred on by "About-the-Garden" and the reference to gardens and germinating seeds, the Library looked over its books on gardening to be sure that it was ready for the spring rush. It even went so far after examining the books already in the collection to buy two new ones—"Continuous Bloom in America," by Louise Shelton, author of "The Seasons in a Flower Garden," and "Garden Month by Month," by Mabel Cabot Sedgwick. Both books are written by authorities in their line and are well illustrated. The "Garden Month by Month" has as a collaborator, Robert Cameron, of the Harvard Botanical Gardens. This book, as it says on the title page, describes the "appearance, dates of bloom, height and cultivation desirable of hardy herbaceous perennials for the formal or wild garden, with additional lists of aquatics, vines, ferns, etc."

In addition to listing the garden books, the Library will display for some weeks the catalogs of the well-known seedsmen of the vicinity.

The list of garden books in the Library collection follows:

"Garden Primer," by Grace Tabor, Barnes.

"Suburban Garden Guide," by P. T. Barnes.

"1000 Hints on Flowers and Birds," by M. S. Grey.

"A Garden Guide," by A. T. De la Mare.

"Four Seasons in a Garden," by Eben Rexford.

"Hardy Flowers," by W. Robinson.

"Big Crops from Little Gardens," by A. R. Ross.

"Home Garden," by E. L. D. Seymour.

"The Seasons in a Flower Garden," by Louise Shelton.

"The Little Garden," by Frances King.

"Boxwood Gardens," by A. E. Lewis.

"American Rose Annual," by T. H. McFarland.

"Flora Historica," by Henry Phillips.

"Practical Book of Outdoor Rose Gardening," by G. C. Thomas.

"Joyous Art of Gardening," by Frances Duncan.

"When Mother Lets Us Garden," by Frances Duncan.

"Practical Flower Garden," by H. E. Ely.

"Flower Cultivation Month by Month," by Mary Hampden.

"Continuous Bloom in America," by Louise Shelton.

"The Garden Month by Month," by Mabel C. Sedgwick.

LIBRARY NEEDS FUNDS

During the past year the library circulated more than 26,000 volumes and since the first of this year the monthly circulation has exceeded 2500 volumes.

The library is materially helped by the borough council, which provides heat and light and takes care of the upkeep of the building, and by the Board of Education, which donates $500 each year which is used exclusively in the purchase of such standard books of reference as are needed by the children of the borough in their school work.

The fine standard library shelving and other furniture now in use in the library was purchased with money generously donated by the citizens of Narberth, and judging by the expressions of satisfaction that have come from all of those contributors who have visited the library, they are more than satisfied with the use that has been made of their gifts.

The contributions received to date toward the now needed $500 follow:

Trustees of the Library Assn.	$50.00
Ralph S. Dunne	10.00
K. W. McHose	10.00
Robert F. Wood	10.00

ALARM IS DOWNFALL

no other reports had been received by the Lower Merion police of other poor box robberies in the Main Line district.

The first thief caught by the St. Margaret's poor box burglar alarm was apprehended under similar circumstances a year ago March 16. Giving his name as Charles Hamilton with a Camden address, he was found to have a previous police record, and was convicted and sentenced when tried subsequently by the county court at Norristown.

HOME ECONOMICS AT COMMUNITY CLUB

Never has the community club listened to a more capable singer than Mrs. Emily D. Moore, who was most ably accompanied by Miss Margery McHale. Mrs. Moore explained that the aria from "Xerxes" of Handel is none other than the famous "Largo" a song about the strength and protective shade of a stalwart oak. The second song called "In a Luxembourg Garden" by an American woman named Manning was a delightful idyll, most delicately sung. By far the most popular numbers, because they were so perfectly rendered in true Negro spiritual manner, were "Little David Play on Your Harp," and "Water Boy."

Mr. Edward A. Walton, from the J. B. Van Sciver Co., talked on "Decorative Art" giving a complete outline of the development of interior decoration, from the time of the cave man who sketched animals, men and weapons in his walk to modern science of color schemes in schools and was camp stuff, mobile, hence the French "Meubles," because everything was carried around.

In the eighteenth century Chippendale had a coffee shop and sold furniture to his fashionable gentlemen customers. In his book he never mentions women as having any interest in furniture. Benjamin Franklin bought rugs, draperies and furniture to suit his taste in London and sent them home though Philadelphia was full of goods from England, the Orient, Spain, Portugal and South America. Gentlemen a century ago even had to know architecture and took pride in designing some of America's loveliest homes as well as public buildings. Colonial and Empire styles gradually gave way to Early Victorian, which was followed by the still more awful late Victorian.

Because of the inventions of all sorts of machinery, men became more and more engrossed in business, gentlemen forgot the finer arts and went to work; gradually gave up everything but business. Our country was in the midst of an extremely commercial era so that today the aesthetic side of life is most distorted. Now house furnishing and decoration is left almost entirely to women. They have for the last 20 years taken this duty as their own and probably will continue to do so for another generation. Mr. Walton showed materials and demonstrated color combinations and answered questions about decorative art.

Before the speakers were announced, a 30 minute discussion of plans for the future club home was held under the direction of Mrs. F. C. Torrey, chairman of the board of directors.

Mrs. A. H. Cordo was hostess when tea was served.

On Tuesday, March 27 the Home Economics section will meet at the home of Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, 208 Essex avenue. Miss Ethel M. Beadless, home extension representative of the Pennsylvania State College will talk on "Just Clothes," featuring short cuts in sewing, dare of clothing, selection of materials, design and color.

On Wednesday, March 28, the literature group will meet at the home of Mrs. W. C. Newman, 439 Anthwyn road.

BAND CONTEST AT ARDMORE

The Lower Merion senior high school band will be entered in the forthcoming national contest for high school bands, according to a statement this week by Fred C. Paten, of Narberth, leader of the organization.

The first elimination, for Eastern Pennsylvania, will be held May 5 at the Lower Merion high school. The winner will compete later in the State contest at Harrisburg, and the victor in that elimination will be entered in the national finals at Joliet, Illinois.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, under the provisions of the Public Service Company Law, by CLARENCE R. HUMPHRIES and MILARD M. DICKIE, trading as Narberth Taxicab Company, Narberth, Pa., for a certificate of Public Convenience evidencing the Commission's requisite approval of the beginning of the exercise of operating motor vehicles as a common carrier for the transportation of persons upon call or demand in Borough of Narberth and vicinity, Montgomery Co.

A public hearing upon this application will be held in Room 496, City Hall, Philadelphia on Tuesday, the third day of April, 1928, at 10 o'clock, when and where all persons in interest may appear and be heard, if they so desire.

THE WOOD OF THE AGES

Twenty-nine hundred years ago Solomon chose Cedar for the temple of all his glory. Coming down through the ages, pioneers in our own land built their log cabins of Cedar.

It is particularly adapted to uses where ability to stand exposure is required, and because of this quality is especially good for Rustic work.

What could be a more attractive addition to your garden than a Summer House built of Rustic Cedar poles—roses rambling over it—a seat or two inside—and a warm, moonlight night?

Let us show you some photographs of Rustic Pergolas, Grape Arbors and Trellis, when convenient for you to stop in this office.
